

ECS Connection Manager Vulnerabilities: CVE-2025-13444 / CVE-2025-13447

This article describes two high-severity security vulnerabilities that affect the ECS Connection Manager versions listed later in this article. We have not received any reports that these vulnerabilities have been exploited, and we are not aware of any direct operational impact on customers. Nevertheless, all vulnerable systems should be patched appropriately to avoid exploitation of these vulnerabilities.
