

The Threat Research Center content is currently being migrated to this platform. Previously published research articles will be progressively restored over the coming days. We apologize for any inconvenience during this transition.

Articles

- Mimori Ransomware is new. Its operators probably are not. >
- Inside INC ransomware: Behind AI-Driven operations >
- Eclipse ransomware - Tradecraft exposed through a leaked C2 server >
- EtherRAT distribution spoofing administrative tools via GitHub Facades >

Campaign KCPhoenix: Inside Silver Fox's latest ValleyRAT chain >

From prompt to phish >

Living off DENO >

Behind the fake AnyDesk: Tracking a Silver Fox-Linked ValleyRAT Campaign >

Exploiting trust in the vendor - cybersecurity provided binary turned malicious >

Abuse of Apache APISIX: Misconfigurations in the wild >

ASAR archives: An overlooked blind spot >

When installing AI turns risky: The rising scale of the campaigns targeting Claude code users >

Rising usage of Apple Developer Certificates for signing Windows malware >

Malicious Proxyware Campaign distributed via Microsoft Store >

Domain Spoofing >

Anatomy of access: Windows device objects from a security perspective >

Investigating a new Click-fix variant >

Distributed Denial of 2023? >

Writeup Drive Hackthebox >

From zero to certificate hero. The 5 Steps to a mature Certificate Lifecycle Management >

Insider Threat – What if the Big Bad Wolf was already in? >

CA/Browser Forum S/MIME Certificate Requirements: what is it and what to do about it? >

Snake Malware >

Cl0p Ransomware Group activity related to data leaks from GoAnywhere MFT >

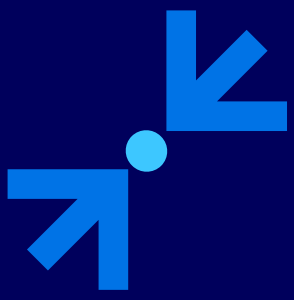

Are privacy-enhancing technologies the holy grail to privacy? >

10 security tips to protect your organizations against ransomware >

Subscribe to Cyber shield blogs to stay one step ahead of evolving threats

Receive expert-curated threat intelligence discoveries, technical breakdowns, and proactive defense insights directly from the Atos Threat Research Center (TRC).

Loading form...

Discover our Cybersecurity Services and get in touch with our experts to discuss how we can help transform your IT infrastructure.

Cybersecurity Services >

Get in touch >

Services >

Industries >

News and Insights >

About us >

Careers >

Follow us and interact

© 2026 Atos Group. All rights reserved. Accessibility Statement Terms of use Integrity Line Privacy

Cookie Settings Contact us

Atos
ATOS
GROUP
Accelerating intelligence