Fix regression introduced in gh-100884: AttributeError when re-fold a long address list.

Also fix more cases of incorrect encoding of the address separator in the address list missed in gh-100884.

- Issue: Error parsing email headers: AttributeError: 'ValueTerminal' object has no attribute 'fold' #118643

@pablogamboa, as an exception, I think that this should be backported to 3.11. It fixes a bug introduced in the last bugfix release of 3.11, and all `email` issues are potentially security issues.

Hello @serhiy-storchaka,

I just tested this with the email that originally motivated me to open #118643 and the result is not correct. I will come back tomorrow with more details on exactly what is happening.

Hello again,

I think I was a bit sleepy when I tested this last night  because I tested this again this morning and it worked as expected. Sorry for the noise and thank you for looking into this!

Sorry, @serhiy-storchaka, I could not cleanly backport this to 3.11 due to a conflict. Please backport using cherry\_picker on command line.

Buildbot failure

Hi! The buildbot AMD64 RHEL8 FIPS Only Blake2 Builtin Hash 3.11 has failed when building commit 4762b36 .

What do you need to do:

1. Don't panic.
2. Check the buildbot page in the devguide if you don't know what the buildbots are or how they work.
3. Go to the page of the buildbot that failed (<https://buildbot.python.org/all/#builders/962/builds/1515>) and take a look at the build logs.
4. Check if the failure is related to this commit ( 4762b36 ) or if it is a false positive.
5. If the failure is related to this commit, please, reflect that on the issue and make a new Pull Request with a fix.
