This installed OK (maybe a minor tweak here or there), but I couldn't figure out what it was supposed to do. You can "add volunteers" and they can "log hours" but I couldn't see how to create a "task" or associate it with a volunteer. And who cares how many hours a volunteer puts in? So maybe I'm missing the point, pardon the poor marks if I am. Oh, and the documentation page is completely

This is a good start for our non-profit organization. Almost all works right out of the box if you follow instructions well. Only one .php page had some code that needed tweaking - the manage work types would not delete work types from the database. just edit the page and correct a few lines and it is good to go. Has good options for sharing documents. Very responsive. Simple administration. Just
